

On the other hand, the new model is based on the assumption that the individual's income and assets are "hidden" in Γ , S and T . This is a reasonable assumption if the individual's income and assets are not directly observable or if they are subject to tax evasion. The new model also assumes that the individual's behavior is rational and self-interested, which implies that the individual will choose the optimal consumption and leisure levels that maximize their utility function.

It's a good idea to have a small amount of cash on hand in case you need it for travel.
